August Total	6.87	Total	8.67

NOTES: Summer 2026 remains quite wet; we seem to be in a 60 mile wide band of more than double normal rainfall from central IL east through us to and including New York City. So far, this summer, the Village at Penn State has had 23.17 inches of rain.

Looking ahead, the very wet summer ought to make leaf-raking, mowing and pod removal quite burdensome throughout autumn. We might get bright foliage colors out of the abundance of leaves.

My love died By John Swisher

She loved me and I loved her.

I see her where she slept.

I see where she sat to see her garden.

She appears in my dreams.

I am alone and lonely.

Could I love again?

Is love still possible at this late age?

Should I love again?

Would I want Someone I love
to go through this?

Love has been the best part of my life.

I'm in a cloud of confusion.

Meet Denise Geissinger, Receptionist

Hello! My name is Denise Geissinger, and yes, my last name may look familiar. One of the first things people often ask me is whether I am related to Geisinger Medical Center. Unfortunately, I am not; their name is spelled with one "s," while mine has two. It is always a fun conversation starter

For the past 21 years, I have worked as an Administrative Assistant at Penn State University, all in the same position.

In mid-June, I began working here at The Village as a part-time receptionist in the Independent Living Building. I also work part-time with a local home care agency providing companion care several hours each week. People sometimes ask why I work two part-time jobs in addition to my full-time position. My answer is simple—I am preparing for retirement. Since many people return to work part-time after retiring, I like to say I already have my part-time jobs lined up!

Outside of work I enjoy several crafts, especially making hand-made greeting cards and I'm very active in my church.

I've only been here a little over three months, but I can already tell this is a close-knit family community, and I'm glad to be part of The Village family.
